POWERS' ATTEMPTS TO HUMANISE SPANISH CIVIL WAR HELD UP

ANXIETY IN CANTON

GEN. YUNG IGNORES HIS INSTRUCTIONS

New Incident Feared At Pakhoi

19TH ROUTE ARMY IN POSSESSION ON ARRIVAL OF JAPANESE GUNBOAT

Canton, To-day.

When the news reached here last night that the 19th Route Army under Divisional Commander Yung Chao-woon still occupied Pakhoi, and that the Japanese gunboat Saga had arrived at the port yesterday afternoon, the people in Canton were very apprehensive that new troubles may arise.

It will be recalled that General Yung Chao-woon achieved fame when he was Garrison Commander of Wusung Fort during the Shanghai War in 1932.

General Ho Ying-ching, the Nanking Minister of the Army, has instructed General Yung to leave Pakhoi, so that the Japanese Consular representatives may investigate the Pakhoi incident with the Chinese officials there, but General Yung has ignored the instructions.

In is learned that, on the one hand General Yung will help the investigation in accordance with international law, and that on the other hand he is busy making preparations for war and defences.

SWATOW DEFENCES

Divisional Commander Li Hwan, formerly of the Ironsides, has returned to Swatow to garrison this important seaport, and the Central troops are being transported back to the North day and night by the Canton-Hankow Railway to return to their own garrisons.

General Li Chung-jen and Mr. Huang Ko-chai sent a cable to the Generalissimo yesterday, saying that they will assume their posts as Pacification Commissioner for Kwangsi and Chairman of the Kwangsi Provincial Government respectively on Wednesday next, and ask the Generalissimo to send an officer to Nanning to officiate at the ceremony.

The Generalissimo has instructed his Chief of Staff, General Ching Chien, to go to Nanning to officiate at this ceremony, and Generals Cheng Sheng and Huang Shao-hung to go there with General Ching to help in the re-organisation of the Kwangsi army and the rehabilitation of the civil affairs of Kwangsi.

LAWSON LITTLE LEADING

New Golf Record By Paul Runyan.

Toronto, To-day.

In the Canadian Open Golf Championship, Paul Runyan, of White Springs, the 1934 American professional champion, shattered the St. Andrew's course record in the second round, with a score of 65, which is five under par. His aggregate score was 137.

Lawson Little, the former British and American amateur champion but who has since turned professional, is, however, leading the field with scores of 67 and 66 to aggregate 133.

Runyan included five birdies in his score, the remaining holes being done in par.—Reuter.

Last year Gene Kines (U.S.) won the title with a record-breaking score of 280.

While the men of Madrid are in the mountains outside the city barring the way to advancing rebels, their women in K.K. uniforms, organised companies and took over the duty of patrolling the capital and acting as reserve forces, many of them serving in the firing line.

SABOTAGE ON AMERICAN CRUISER

Deliberate Attempt To Set Fire To Ship

New York, To-day.

It is revealed that a small fire occurred on the United States cruiser Indianapolis on August 25 while she was being repaired in the Brooklyn Navy Yard.

It is declared that the outbreak was undoubtedly deliberate. Two nails were found driven through the power cable, causing a short-circuit.

The United States Navy Department has begun an investigation.—Reuter.

FRANCO-POLISH RELATIONS

Many Conjectures In The Press

AN EXCLUSIVE BILATERAL ASSOCIATION?

"CHINA MAIL" SPECIAL

Warsaw, To-day.

The ceremonious and cordial reception awarded the returning Inspector-General of the Polish Army, Marshal Rydz-Smigly, is regarded here as sign of the importance of his mission to France.

This has given rise to speculations in the press, the foreign papers also freely speculating as to the real importance of the Franco-Polish Agreement, the main feature of which seems to be the revival of the Franco-Polish Military Convention.

Those Polish newspapers whose utterances hitherto have been taken as officially inspired emphatically state that the agreement with France is decidedly bilateral, and that the agreement is not a repudiation but merely another confirmation of Poland's policy to reject collective agreements, a theory which was invented by M. Litvinov.

Among the papers to present the situation in this light is, for instance, the semi-official Gazeta Polska, which states that the news broadcast by the French

KAY STAMMERS BEATEN BY WIMBLEDON CHAMPION

Forest Hills, To-day.

The semi-finals in the American National Tennis Championships were decided yesterday, and though the only British hope in the ladies' section, Miss Kay Stammers, was eliminated, Britain, represented by the redoubtable Fred Perry, is favoured to win the men's title.

SURREY BOWLER'S FEAT

Gover's 200 Wickets In Season

HAMMOND AND LARWOOD TOP AVERAGES

London, To-day.

Gover, the Surrey fast bowler, in capturing his last wicket in first class cricket this season, brought his total to 200 with an average of 17.73 runs per wicket.

He is the third fast bowler to accomplish this feat since 1897, when Tom Richardson, also of Surrey, collected 273. Macdonald, of Lancashire, took 205 wickets in 1925.

The leaders in the batting averages for the season are: Hammond (Gloucester) 56.94; Edrich (Middlesex) 55.00; Fishlock (Surrey) 53.22; Hendren (Middlesex) 47.39; A. Melville (Sussex) 46.76; Leyland (Yorkshire) 45.89.

The bowling averages were headed by Larwood (Notts) 12.97 (191 wickets); Verity (Yorkshire) 13.18 (216 wickets); Copson (Derby) 13.34 (160 wickets); Bowes (Yorkshire) 13.40 (123 wickets); Smith (Middlesex) 15.08 (133 wickets).—Reuter.

Agency "Mitropa," that Poland had consented to Soviet planes crossing Polish territory, is the "purest invention."

"The agreement between Poland and France is exclusively bilateral, and was entered into by both countries under this express understanding," the paper concludes.—Trans-Ocean Service.

MADRID GOVT. NOT CO-OPERATING

ASPHYXIATING GASES TO BE USED

ULTIMATUM TO SAN SEBASTIAN

St. Jean de Luz, To-day.

No steps with regard to the possible use of poison-gas by the combatants in Spain are likely to be taken by the Powers at present. Dr. Branting, the former Swedish Premier, on his return from Madrid, declared that the insurgents were preparing to employ asphyxiating gases against the Government forces.

Although the British Government had asked the British Ambassador, Sir Henry Chilton, to convene the diplomatic corps to consider the whole question of the possible use of poison-gas, no result was reached at the meeting on Thursday. The Italian Ambassador stated that it was impossible to deal with the matter since the Madrid Government did not think it worth while to follow the efforts of the diplomatic corps to humanise the war. In the circumstances the diplomatic corps considers that no overtures could well be made to the insurgent junta at Burgos on the matter.

HITLER ADDRESSES 250,000 PEOPLE

"German Flag Will Fly High"

"OUR MOVEMENT WILL NEVER GET STALE"

Nuremberg, To-day.

Chancellor Hitler, in his address to an audience of 250,000 people at the Nazi Party Congress yesterday, declared:

"If our old enemies ever try to attack us the flag will fly high. They shall get to know us. We shall not believe that they will ever have the chance of again raising their hands to Germany or to carry this Bolshevik poison again into our country. We long for peace to work to arrange our own life as we wish it and not as the Bolshevik Jews would like."

"We have one request to make to providence—spare our children from our experience. Nobody will believe that our movement will ever get stale. A new young generation marches in our ranks to-day. We can watch quietly the further developments, and we shall not be incautious."

"I am calm and self-confident because I see our organisation of men and women. I prophesy that this Reich has only experienced the first years of its youth. It will grow through the centuries to come. Do right and do your duty, and God will never desert Germany." — Reuter.

U.S. title holder in the Wightman Cup series at Wimbledon this year and that she also beat Helen Jacobs in the same series at Forest Hills last year.

COMMUNIST PLOT DENIED

20 WORKMEN ARRESTED IN ROME

Rome, To-day. — Though it is denied that any Communist plot has been revealed, authoritative quarters admit that 20 workmen of a steel-works north of Rome have been arrested and will be charged with anti-Fascist activities, financed from abroad.

It is reported that certain Fascist officials have been removed from their posts in the town where the steel-works are situated for failing to know about the trouble beforehand. The arrested men will be charged with distributing leaflets or chalking up phrases sympathising with the Spanish Government.

The rumours that a few people have been arrested in Rome for a similar offence are not confirmed.—Reuter's Bulletin Service.

Representations To Portugal

London: The British Government has instructed its Ambassador at Lisbon to support urgently and strongly the further representations made by the French Government at Lisbon, in the hope of persuading Portugal to participate in the international committee on non-intervention in Spain. The committee meets again in London at 4 p.m. on Monday.

ARAB COMMITTEE TO MEET HIGH COMMISSIONER

Memorandum On British Policy To Be Presented

Haifa, To-day.

A British Sergeant was killed in an encounter yesterday with a large band of Arabs at the foot of Mount Carmel. Five Arabs were killed.

The Arab High Committee is meeting the High Commissioner to-day and is expected to present a memorandum on the British announcement of policy in Palestine.—Reuter.

This is the fourth time within a week that Britain has made representations. It is not thought that Portugal is likely to weaken its ties with France and Britain, particularly in face of the renewed German colonial demands, but in the event of difficulty it is unofficially suggested that the next meeting of the committee will have (Continued on Page 10)

London, To-day.

The match between All-India and Mr. H. D. G. Leveson-Gower's XI at Scarborough ended in a draw, the feature being a three-figure innings by Mustaq Ali, who has been one of the tourists' most consistent batsmen. Mr. Leveson-Gower's XI: 225 (Stutcliffe 94) and 329. All-India: 333 (Mustaq Ali 140) and 146 for 5. — Reuter.

STRIKES IN FRANCE GRAVE ANXIETY SHOWN

Newspapers Fear "Coup de Force"

"SOVIETISING" OF FACTORIES

Paris, To-day.

Despite a few settlements the French strikes continue. As fast as one dispute is settled another occurs elsewhere. The situation is causing anxiety to the conservative newspapers, several of which fear a "coup de force," whereby the Renault workers might try to sovietise the French motor factories.

Lille: The strike situation has been improved by the stay-in strikers in the textile industry in the Lille region evacuating the factories, following a three-hour meeting presided over by the Minister of Interior, M. Salengro. 21,000 STRIKE

Paris, Later: While the strikers at Lille are expected to return to work soon, as a result of both sides accepting the arbitration of M. Salengro, there are still 15,000 heavy industry workers conducting a stay-in strike at Marseilles and 6,000 at Douai.

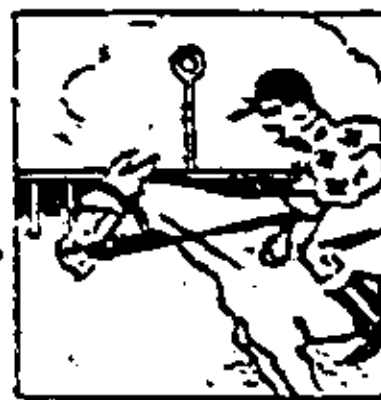

The reports that the workers in the Renault motor factory may try to "sovietise" the works are denied by the Paris district union concerned, but the employees at the Licorne motor-works near Paris have struck and occupied the works, following the dismissal of 10 workers.—Reuter.

NO RECORDS IN COLONY AQUATIC HEATS

Lau Po Hei's Good Effort

WILFRED LAWRENCE IS FULLY EXTENDED

(By "CRAWL")
Some interesting and exciting swimming was witnessed in the Victoria Recreation Club swimming pool yesterday evening, when heats for the Colony 100 Yards free-style, the 100 Yards back-stroke and the 50 Yards free-style championship events were held, and although no records were broken, Lau Po Hei, former holder of the back-stroke mark, and the present Interport champion, was four-fifths of a second outside Lawrence's Colony record of 69 secs.

An excellent race was seen in the first heat of the 100 Yards free-style championship, in which Wilfred Lawrence, the Colony champion, was fully extended all the way by Norman Lee, of South China, the latter clocking the best time of his career, 58 1-5 secs.

The second heat was swum in comparatively slower time and Osorio, who won, was only two-fifths of a second better than Rim Hamilton, the latter qualifying as the best third.

No Heats
The heats for the 100 Yards breast-stroke were done away with in view of the fact that Yeung Yuk-wa, one of the entrants, failed to appear and as a result the remaining five swimmers entered the final.

H.K. CLUB AND EAST LANCES AT SOCCER

Seniors And Juniors At The Valley

GOOD SPORT SHOULD BE WITNESSED

(By "ROVER")

Local soccer will make a start to-morrow with two friendly games between the Hong Kong Football Club and the East Lancashire Regiment, on the former's ground at the Valley, and, despite the heat, some interesting play should be witnessed.

The Club, with the exception of George Hill, their captain, who is on the injured list with cartilage trouble, will be at full strength, a notable inclusion being F. S. Nicholls, at right-back in partnership with Syd Strange.

The Club intermediate line is the same which served them throughout last season with one exception Drown, instead of playing at right-half, is playing at inside-right, his former position, while Skinner makes a reappearance at right-half, following a not too successful season owing to illness.

Same Attack

The Club's attack will again see F. Fowler on the right-wing, supported by Drown, while Elliott again leads the line with Wilson and Bickford on his left.

The East Lances have made several interesting changes to their first eleven, although Oxford, in goal, and Swain and Steele, the two full-backs, remain unchanged. Thorpe and Crowthers, who played as right and left wing-halves, respectively for the Juniors last season have been promoted, while Gorman, who has played as a full-back, half-back and forward, will occupy the centre-half position.

East Lances Attack

Griffin, who played in both the first and second teams last year on the left-wing, will play on the opposite side to-day, supported by Lawton, the former senior pivot, while Sandford, the Army player, will again lead the attack. Smith and Riding complete the team on the left.

PLANS TO REGAIN HIS TITLES

BUT EYE INJURY MAY KEEP HIM OUT

BEN FOORD'S TWO OFFERS FOR NEUSEL FIGHT

(By Harold Lewis)

London, August 19.

JACK PETERSEN is not retiring from the ring. He made that quite plain at Leicester yesterday before leaving for his home in Cardiff after his defeat by Ben Foord, the South African, on Monday night. "I hope to fight for my titles again," he told me, "just as I did after my defeat by Harvey in December, 1933."

Petersen will be 25 in September, and is quite young enough to start again. But this time I do not think his return will be successful. He was beaten on Monday for much the same reason that he lost his fight to Harvey in 1933—he was careless and over-confident, stepping within reach of a dangerous opponent without any semblance of guard.

Petersen boxed badly as regards tactics, and he had a poor sense of distance, missing with his punches even when his opponent stood still—as he did for most of the first two rounds. A doctor who was at the fight told me later that in his view, and from what he could see of the wound across the eyebrow, Petersen should not box for at least six months, and that he might conceivably be advised never to enter the ring again, lest some permanent injury to his sight be done.

The cuts of the mouth were not so serious as they appeared at the time, and when he left Leicester, Petersen showed no sign of the fight except the plaster over his eye. He has earned between $50,000 and $60,000 in less than five years as a professional boxer, and has saved a considerable proportion of his gains. But, if he can secure adequate treatment for his eyebrow scars it seems absurd to urge him to retire.

Not Many Heavyweights
We have but a small handful of heavyweights in this country, and, though it may seem discourteous to Foord, it is no credit to us that our premier boxing title is now held by a man from overseas.

Foord will soon be fighting again. The small fracture in his right hand has not been fully diagnosed, but I have good reason for stating that it is an injury of a very minor character. I can vouch that he was able to shake hands firmly with only a little pain an hour after the fight.

LOUGHRAN'S EYE INJURED

Bout With Impellitiere Postponed

Oakland, California, September 6. — Tommy Loughran, retired world's light-heavyweight champion, cut his left eye while training to-day, thus postponing Monday's bout with Ray Impellitiere, young Italian-American giant, to September 16.

Impellitiere lost a decision to Loughran last year in Philadelphia, and was knocked-out by Primo Carnera a year ago last March 15, in New York city.

Al McCoy won an unpopular decision over Loughran in Montreal on July 6, 1936. Tommy has lost on decision to Carnera. Walter Neusel, and Johnny Risko in 1934. At the end of 1934, he left for a boxing trip to South America, where he made an unimpressive record. He also travelled to Canada, London and Paris in 1935. — United Press.

FRENCH CYCLIST GAINS WORLD'S TITLE

Zurich, September 4.—The French cyclist, Andre Raynaud, won the world championship for medium-distance racing behind a motor-cycle in a competition held here yesterday.—Havas.

Jack Petersen, above, former holder of the British and Empire Heavyweight boxing titles, who lost to Ben Foord, of South Africa, recently, intends staging a comeback as soon as his eye injury heals.

INTERPORT CRICKET TRIAL

Teams Not Yet Selected

A FEW SUGGESTIONS

(By "L. B. W.")

Although the Interport Selection Committee has not yet been appointed, the candidates for the Interport against Shanghai will be on view to-day when the first trial match takes place on the Hong Kong Cricket Club ground. Amongst those playing will be H. Owen Hughes and A. C. I. Bowker, both of whom have represented the Colony previously and both of whom have served on former Selection Committees. Their inclusion in the teams, therefore, appears somewhat significant.

It is difficult to make any comment on the match in view of the fact that the sides have not yet been chosen, but it would perhaps be a good idea to play the promising bats against the weaker bowlers in order to give them an opportunity to gain confidence before pitting them up against the Colony's best trundlers in a later trial.

N. A. E. Mackay and W. H. Colledge are the two players who will be seeking selection as stumper, and in this connection it would be a good idea to let them each keep wicket for two half-innings in order that they may deal with the same bowlers, thus giving a better indication of their comparative worth.

Personally, I feel that there is not much to choose between them. Both are very reliable stumpers and both are opening bats, though Mackay has a more impressive record as far as big scores are concerned.

The teams for to-day's game will be picked from the following: A. C. I. Bowker, W. H. Colledge, E. F. Fincher, C. C. Garthwaite, E. L. Goano, A. W. Hayward, G. R. Clegg-Hill, W. C. Hung, Col. E. St. C. Clarke, A. T. Lee, E. Lee, N. A. E. Mackay, A. H. Mader, A. R. Minn, E. J. R. Mitchell, K. Nazarin, T. A. Pearce, F. D. Pereira, Capt. D. W. Perse, Tel. Tufnell, J. P. Williams and F. R. Zimmern.

MRS. JARRETT'S SUSPENSION UNJUST

Honolulu, September 5.

DUKE P. Kahanomuku, a member of the 1912, 1920 and 1924 United States Olympic games swimming teams and at present Sheriff in Honolulu, took time off from his police duties here to enter a vigorous criticism of the handling of the 1936 American squad in Berlin.

Condemning the suspension of Mrs. Eleanor Holm Jarrett, world's record holder in several swimming events, and two boxers because of asserted violation of training rules, "the Duke" commented: "I am beginning to wonder if our Olympic team was shooting for the Athletic or officiating championships over there in Germany. It looks like they're more interested in the latter. The Hawaiian, who is listed as one of the greatest swimmers of all time, had no patience for 'pompous athletic directors.' 'After 25 years of participation in amateur athletics, and close contact with athletes and officials. I suspect that there is one thing the world can get along without—prominent amateur athletic officials.' Duke said.

"As a rule they know but one thing—that's their own great importance in their own eyes. Athletes make the Olympic teams what they are without the help of dignitaries wearing official badges. Any man or woman making the American Olympic team is no chump; he or she is a champion. Prompting Not Needed. Champions are made through hard and intelligent work, rigid self-knowledge and self-discipline. They know just how far they can and should go in training, and no official need prompt a champion to work and win."—United Press.

Bantamweight Title
Dispute

MARINO FLOORED FIVE TIMES
IN ONE ROUND
New York, August 31.
Sixto Escobar, bantamweight of New York City, to-night extended his claim to the title of world's bantamweight champion by defeating Tony Marino of Pittsburgh.

Marino won the first round, but in the second, Escobar tore into his opponent, flooring him five times, and the last time he was on the canvas Marino was saved only by the bell. The bout, originally set for fifteen rounds, was ended in the thirteenth round while Marino was still trying for a knockout despite the fact that he was bleeding from nose, mouth and eyes. In that round a physician of the Boxing Commission examined Marino's eye and ordered the bout halted, thus giving the fight to Escobar on a technical knockout.

Title Disputed
The Puerto Rican has been recognized by the National Boxing Association for some time as the bantamweight champion of the world, but the claim is disputed by Al Brown, Panama negro, who, however, has been out of action for about a year. Escobar weighed in at 117½ lb. and his opponent at 115½ lb. —United Press.

The Club-juniors. The Club-should, however, be able to field a fairly representative side.

ENGLISH XI WANTED TO TOUR INDIA

Improvement In
Cricket Grounds

PREPARING FOR THE NEXT
VISIT BY M.C.C. XI

London.

One of the reasons why Mr. A. S. de Mello, secretary of the Board of Cricket Control, India, is now in England is to arrange an extra tour of India by an English side during the winter of 1937-8, states the "Manchester Guardian."

The purpose is to provide Indian players with further experience before the next visit of an M.C.C. team, and Mr. de Mello's hope is that a fairly good team can be persuaded to undertake such a tour, possibly captained by Lord Tennyson or Sir Julian Cain. The tour would last only two or three months, with visits to most of the important cricketing cities and States, but there is no idea of playing Test matches.

Modern Stadium

The Cricket Club of India have begun the construction of a thoroughly modern stadium at Bombay capable of holding 36,000 spectators, of whom 12,500 can be seated.

This will be ready by the winter of 1937-8, and will be the ground for all important cricket, tennis, and hockey matches. There is to be a swimming pool, a "centre court" for lawn tennis, squash rackets courts, and a clubhouse with an excellent dance floor.

The whole is far in advance of anything else of the kind to be found in India. It will be known as the "Brabourne Stadium," in honour of the present Governor of Bombay. F. Tarrant will be in charge of the laying out of the pitch.

PREPARING FOR 1940 GAMES

China To Make An Early Start

FOREIGN COACHES MUST BE SECURED

Shanghai, September 6.
"China will start immediately to make preparations for the 1940 Olympic Games to be held in Tokyo," William Z. L. Sung, honorary secretary general of the China National Amateur Athletic Federation, declared in an interview to local pressmen following his return from Berlin via Siberia yesterday.

Mr. Sung said that a nationwide scheme will be mapped out when other officials of the Federation return to China from their trip to Germany.

The Chinese Government will be requested to assume the leadership in making the plans and carrying them out and the Federation will do its best to render every co-operation in the movement," Mr. Sung added. "It is necessary to arouse the mass of the country and make it realise the importance of physical culture with the ultimate view to participating successfully in the World Olympics."

Foreign Coaches

Mr. Sung stated that it is necessary to have the services of foreign coaches for field and track events and other games. To what extent China can go in this respect depends on how much money the Chinese Government will allot for the purpose, Mr. Sung pointed out.

The athletic mentor of the Federation laid to China's failure in the Berlin Games two reasons—lack of experience and excessive mental strain. Practically all the Chinese athletes were handicapped by what is usually called stage fright which threw them off balance in the contests and their high mental tension hampered their usual free and smooth movements. They were not relaxed at all.—China Press.

Adelaide, To-day.—The Australian Cricket Board of Control has resolved to launch a campaign to prevent objectionable and excessive barracking at all international matches and the assistance of the Police will be sought and offenders will be removed and prosecuted.—Reuter.

CRICKET CLUB'S SUCCESS

Shanghai, September 7.

The second Wood Trophy cricket match between the Shanghai Cricket Club and the Shanghai Recreation Club ended yesterday, in a draw and, as indications point to there being insufficient time to play off the final match, the Cricket Club will regain the trophy, by virtue of their earlier win.

The Cricket Club batted first on Saturday and made 161 runs, of which total R. Booth made 97. H. Meston was the most successful bowler for the Recs, taking 4 for 43.

When the Recs went in to bat yesterday, A. G. White gave evidence of seeking claims to Interport recognition as an opening batsman when he knocked up 31 runs in fine style. Others to come off were M. J. Divecha (24), Pat Madar (32) and F. R. Kermani (34). Booth took 3 wickets for 15 runs.

Going in for the second time the Cricket Club had scored 111 for 4 when stumps were drawn. F. Marshall and E. H. Anstice each made 22, while H. V. Parker was not out for 28. Divecha took two wickets for seven runs apiece.

THE AMERICA'S CUP DEFENDER

Welded All-Steel
Hull To Be Built

New York, August 18.

Plans for the new yacht which is to be built by the New York Yacht Club Syndicate to defend the America's Cup against the challenge of Mr. T. O. M. Sopwith's Endeavour II are now revealed. She is to have a welded all-steel hull, the same size as that of Endeavour II. The rig of Rainbow, successful defender of the trophy against Endeavour in 1934, is to be used. The aim is to make a faster hull for the old canvas.

Mr. W. Starling Burgess, designer of Rainbow, has been tentatively chosen to design the new hull. The new boat will be sailed by Mr. Harold S. Vanderbilt, who skippered Rainbow in 1934.

MA RETAINS NANKING TENNIS TITLE

Nanking, September 6.—Ma Shao-po, Nanking's leading tennis player, retained his singles tennis crown to-day by defeating Li Pei-chin, promising local player, by 6-3, 6-2, 6-2. Despite the sweltering heat, a fairly large crowd turned out to watch the game.—Central News.

THRILLING FINAL TO U. S. OPEN POLO TOURNAMENT

Greentree Record Second
Successive Win

Meadowbrook, September 5.—Greentree won its second successive open Polo Championship here to-day by defeating Templeton 11 to 10 in a thrilling match which went to two extra chukkers. A sensational goal in the closing second of the second extra chucker by Mr. Gerald Balding, American polo star, decided the championship.

To-day's victory carried with it the right for Greentree to represent the United States against Argentina in a series of matches which are to begin on September 19.—United Press.

INTERPORT WATCH WITH SHANGHAI

Hankow, September 4.

The Interport cricket match between Hankow and Shanghai will take place on September 19 and 20, and if not finished continue on to the third day. Although the Hankow team still has to be selected, it is understood the following players will fill the first ten places:—

A. J. W. Evans (captain), W. E. S. James, A. V. T. Dean, C. E. Sherwin, E. S. Giles, K. M. Campbell, J. D. Calvert, J. W. Foster, I. A. Kirkbride, C. de W. James.

Messrs. Blanford, Mackenzie, Bryson and Hunter are close rivals for eleventh place. The newcomers include Dean, a consistent all-rounder, who has batted and fielded well throughout the season and is a useful change bowler; Campbell, who came to Hankow with the Shanghai team last year; and Calvert, an old Interporter, who recently has returned to the fold.

Evans, the captain, has had one of his most successful seasons, with two centuries and numerous half centuries to his credit. He promises to be the mainstay of the batting, assisted by a strong batting side throughout, notably Dean, Giles, James and Foster.

Followers of the game here will recall that Dean played for the Hong Kong Cricket Club about 15 years ago when he made with several big scores.

LYNCH vs. PALMER

Benny Lynch (Glasgow) will defend his world, British, and European flyweight championships against Pat Palmer (London) on September 16. The promoter, Mr. George Dingley, states that the crowd turn out to watch the game, which will probably be a Glasgow football ground.

PROBABLE LOSS FROM OLYMPIAD

Takings Far Below
Capital Outlay

COST OF BUILDING AND BANKRUPTCY

Berlin, August 17.

The first official profit and loss account of the Olympic games, issued to-night, shows that receipts from the sales of tickets slightly exceeded running expenses, leaving the huge capital outlay and other State expenditure with no offset except the indirect receipts from tourist traffic.

A total of 4,500,000 entrance tickets and 100,000 season tickets to the games were sold, realising $375,000, while running expenses are given as $325,000.

This includes wages to 300 office employees and 5,000 other workpeople, but it does not include rent, since all the Stadium's ground and similar accommodation was provided by the State. The games attracted 1,200,000 visitors to Berlin, of whom 150,000 were foreigners. About 1,000 special trains were run by the States Railways during the fortnight. Hotels and cafes probably had the best two weeks in the history of Berlin.

The Burning Question

The burning question is: How much foreign currency has Germany netted from the 151,000 visitors from abroad? Until this is known it is impossible to estimate what price Germany has paid for any political value she may get from the great propagandist effort she made during the games.

No figures have been published of the cost of the various Stadiums, the Olympic village and other capital expenditure which must run into many millions of pounds. Huge sums were also spent in the sumptuous receptions given practically every evening by various Ministers in honour of the guests.

Cricket

Since Douglas Jardine's party set sail for Australia in 1932 cricket has travelled a tortuous path, what with "body-line" disputes between countries as well as counties, suspensions of players, resignations of prominent officials and protests by counties against minor actions by their opponents. Be that as it may, the team that will leave England to-day under the captaincy of G. O. Allen will carry with it the best wishes of the English cricketing public and is certain of a hearty welcome when it reaches Australian shores.

There will be many in Australia who would like to have seen once again Harold Larwood, the butt of all criticism in the cricket "war," but that could not have been even had the powers-that-be so desired it, the fast bowler breaking a rib, allegedly while bowling, before the final selections were made. Having invited Voce to play, there was every reason to believe that the selectors would have approached Larwood, but this new injury, coupled with the fact that he has not yet totally recovered from the foot injury that he sustained in Australia, relieved the selectors of any responsibility. In this direction and also saved Larwood from any hurried decision regarding a comeback into the international arena after he had stated that he would not do so.

The England side is a strong one with an encouraging blending of youth in it. Allen is a popular, though untried, skipper, and one who is likely to appeal to the Australian public, who really look on him as an Australian, although he is an Englishman.

Just over 18 months ago the English press, for weeks on end, did nothing but tell the promising young cricketers of the day that English cricket was dying a slow death, and the result of this campaign is clearly apparent. To-day England has seven players who are likely to equal the feats of Hobbs, Sutcliffe and Tate. On the bone-hard wickets to be found in Australia, Worthington, Fagg, Hardstaff and Barnett should come out into the limelight, never to look back. The bowling is not as strong as the batting, but there is reason to believe that Allen, Copson and Farnes will be able to do something. Voce has proved his worth in Australia, while Verity has met with fair success "down under."

Australia will probably win the Ashes, but there can be little doubt that in doing so she will be laying the foundations for just as spectacular English successes in five or six years' time, and that is just how it should be.

There was much excitement in the charge room of the Bay View police station on Thursday night, shortly after 8.30, when a snake, about four feet long, was found under the desk of the interpreter, Mr. Ma Sai-ming. Mr. Ma was sitting at his desk when he suddenly felt something near his feet, and on looking down found, to his consternation, the snake lying there. The unwelcome visitor, which had apparently found its way into the room from the hillside nearby, was caught by Constable Yau On, who sold it to a store in Wanchai.

The Tornado-Proof Tornado Policy

THIS remarkable case of recovery of an insurance policy is reported to me by the Phoenix Insurance Co. of Hartford, which company wrote a fire and tornado insurance policy on the home of W. R. Armstrong of Tupelo, Miss. In the spring of this year, Tupelo was stricken by a storm of tornado proportions, leaving many dwellings and other buildings in ruins. Only the brick foundations of the Armstrong home remained standing. All personal effects and furniture were strewn for miles around, including the insurance policy, which was blown 105 miles. It was picked up by J. T. Alexander in the woods near Tusculum, Alabama and returned to Mr. Armstrong.

Streetcar Pass For A Dog

When her master was ill in a hospital "Mary", a pointer dog owned by Charles Booth of Danville, Va., puzzled over his absence, took to jumping on a streetcar and going to his place of business to await him. This demonstration of devotion impressed the street railway officials and a pass was issued for the dog, as well as instructions to motormen to look out for her. It was uncanny how "Mary" knew which car to take and where to get off, but she never missed, until her death from old age in August, 1935.

ACCIDENT IN CAMP

Guardman Shot Dead

Woking. A company of the 3rd Grenadier Guards, who were recently in camp at Pirbright, were out on their ranges one morning. Owing to the heat of break was called and the men returned to camp.

One young Guardsman whose name has not been disclosed was demonstrating to the company how a certain shot should be made. He inserted what was believed to be a spent cartridge in his rifle. There was a report, and Guardsman Ayling fell shot through the left temple.

There were eight men in the room at the time. The facts were communicated to the police and the coroner, and an inquest was held later. Ayling's home is in London.

Here There and Everywhere

EXCOMMUNICATION

The power of excommunication, recently exercised by the Bishop of Chichester on the son of a country vicar who was subjected to severe criticism at an inquest on his father, has rarely been invoked in recent times. Persons likely to be subject to it settle the matter for themselves by abstinence.

A notable case occurred at the end of last century when a well-known peer who had been involved in divorce proceedings was refused Holy Communion. He appealed to the bishop, who upheld the action of the parish priest.

A formal act of excommunication can only be done by a bishop, and there appears to be no modern precedent for Dr. Bell's action.

On the other hand, the second of the general rubrics prefixed to the Communion Service empowers the priest to repel from Communion anyone who is "an open and notorious evil liver, or has done any wrong to his neighbours by word or deed, so that the congregation be thereby offended."

Excommunication is entirely an ecclesiastical punishment and carries with it no civil disqualifications.

The Prayer Book service of burial may not be used by any person who dies excommunicate "and no man able to testify of his repentance."

THE ROMANCE OF THE SILK-WORM

ANCIENT ART WHICH CAME FROM CHINA

SILK WORTH ITS WEIGHT IN GOLD IN OLD BYZANTIUM

It was in China that the use of these insects. Silk itself was unknown to the Romans till the time of Augustus, and then all that was received in Europe came from India, which had previously supplied Babylon and Persia.

How costly this beautiful material was in Europe in the early centuries may be gathered from the fact that when the Emperor Aurelian was asked by his Empress to obtain a robe of silk for her he refused, because of the enormous expense, the material then being worth its weight in gold.

At length, however, the secret of the production of silk was learned by two monks, who penetrated into China. To their amazement, they found that the beautiful material which was the envy of all the court ladies at Byzantium was produced by an insignificant "worm that laid eggs."

They regarded their discovery as so important that they travelled across Asia to lay the facts before the Emperor Justinian.

Important Knowledge

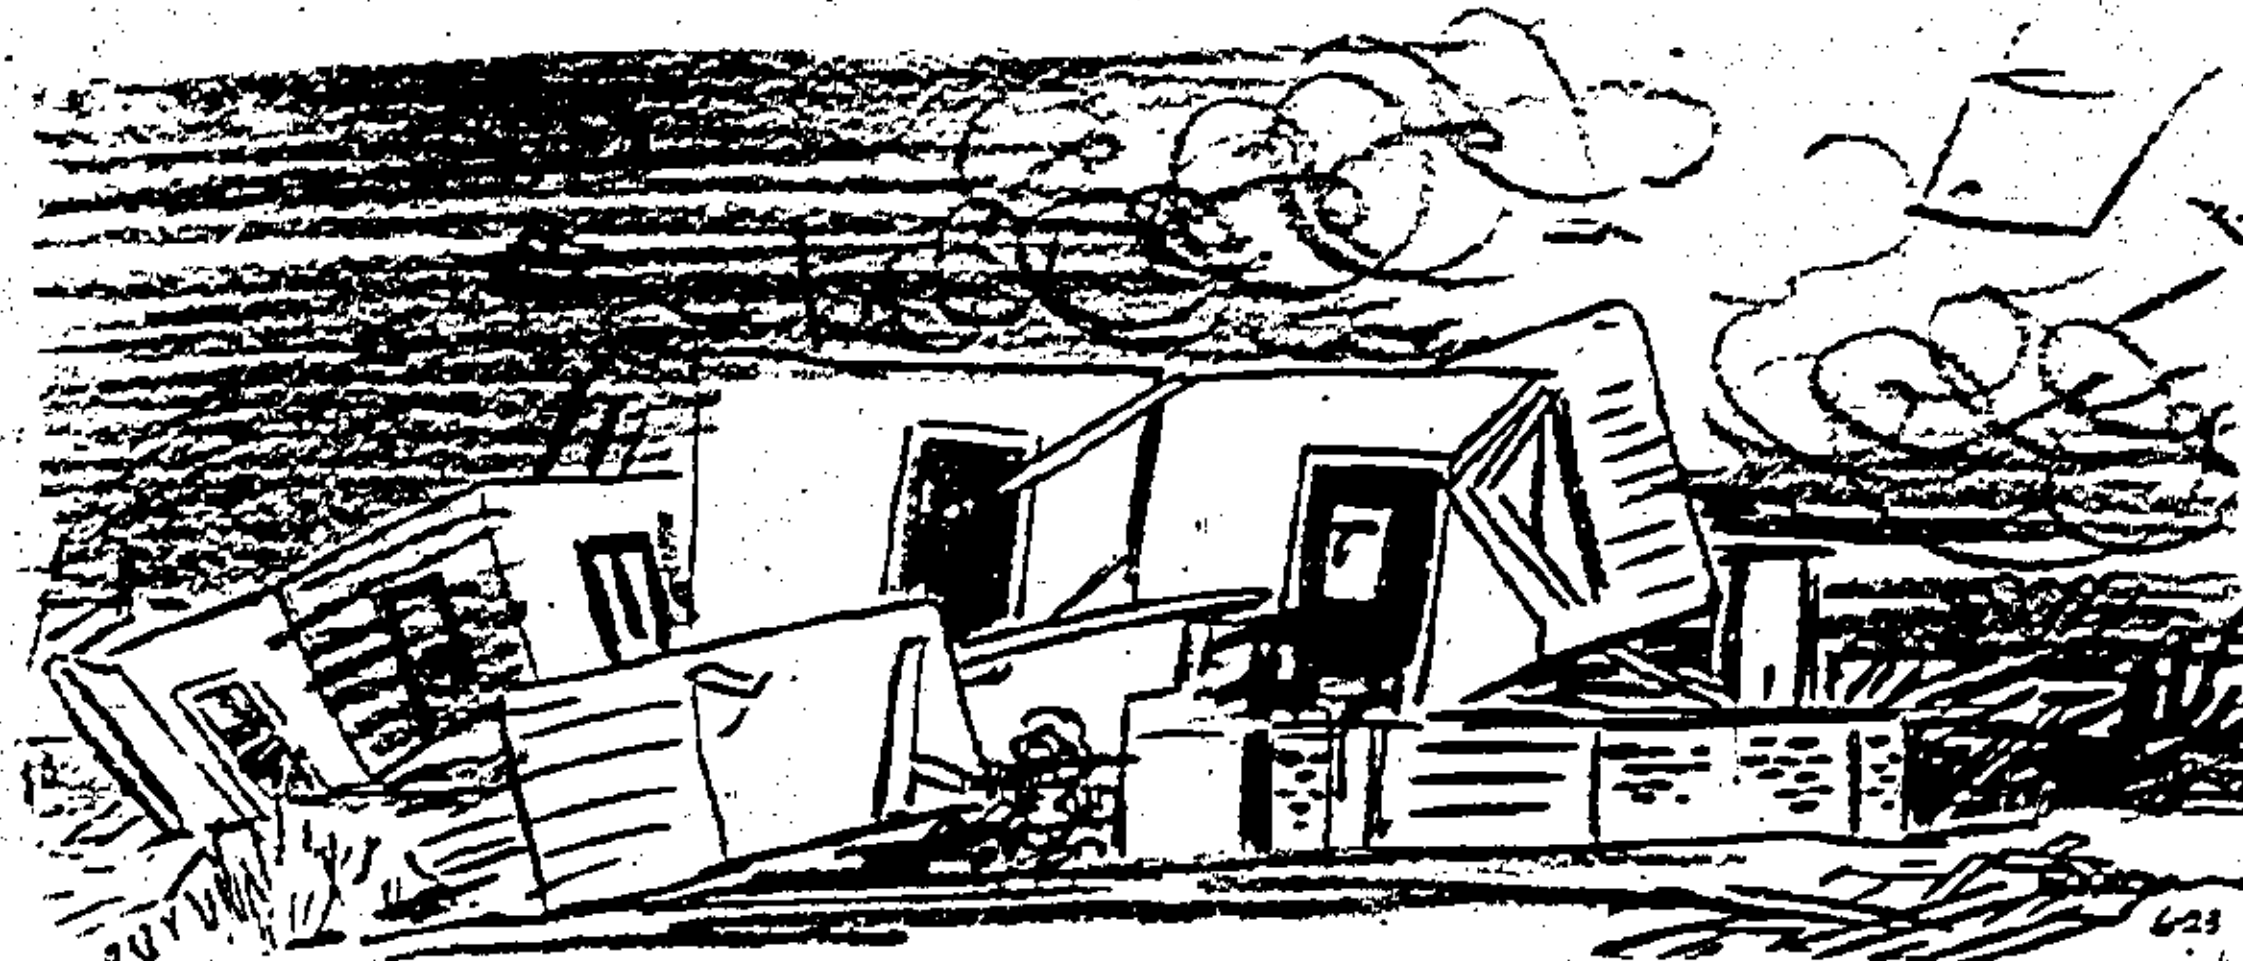

Realising the importance of the knowledge, the emperor urged the monks to return to China and secure some of the precious eggs. They did so, and in a battle of cunning with the Chinese they won, for they managed to obtain some eggs, and, by secreting them in the hollows of two canes which they used as pilgrim staffs, they were able to carry their precious treasure out of the country.

In 552 they arrived at Constantinople with the first silkworm eggs ever seen in Europe.

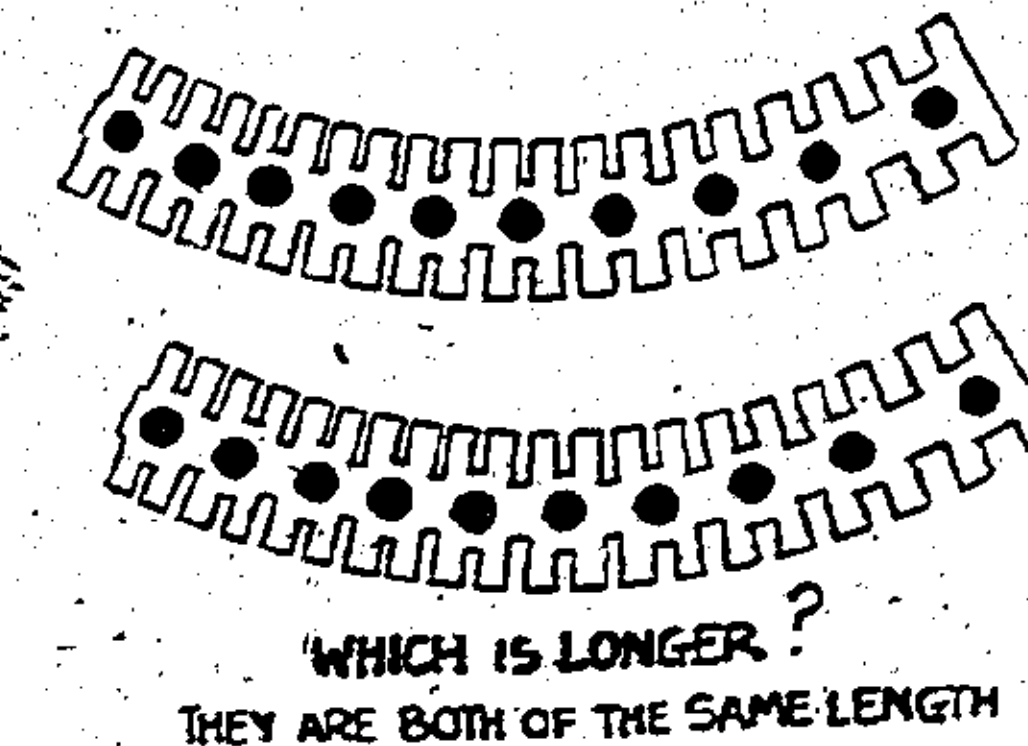

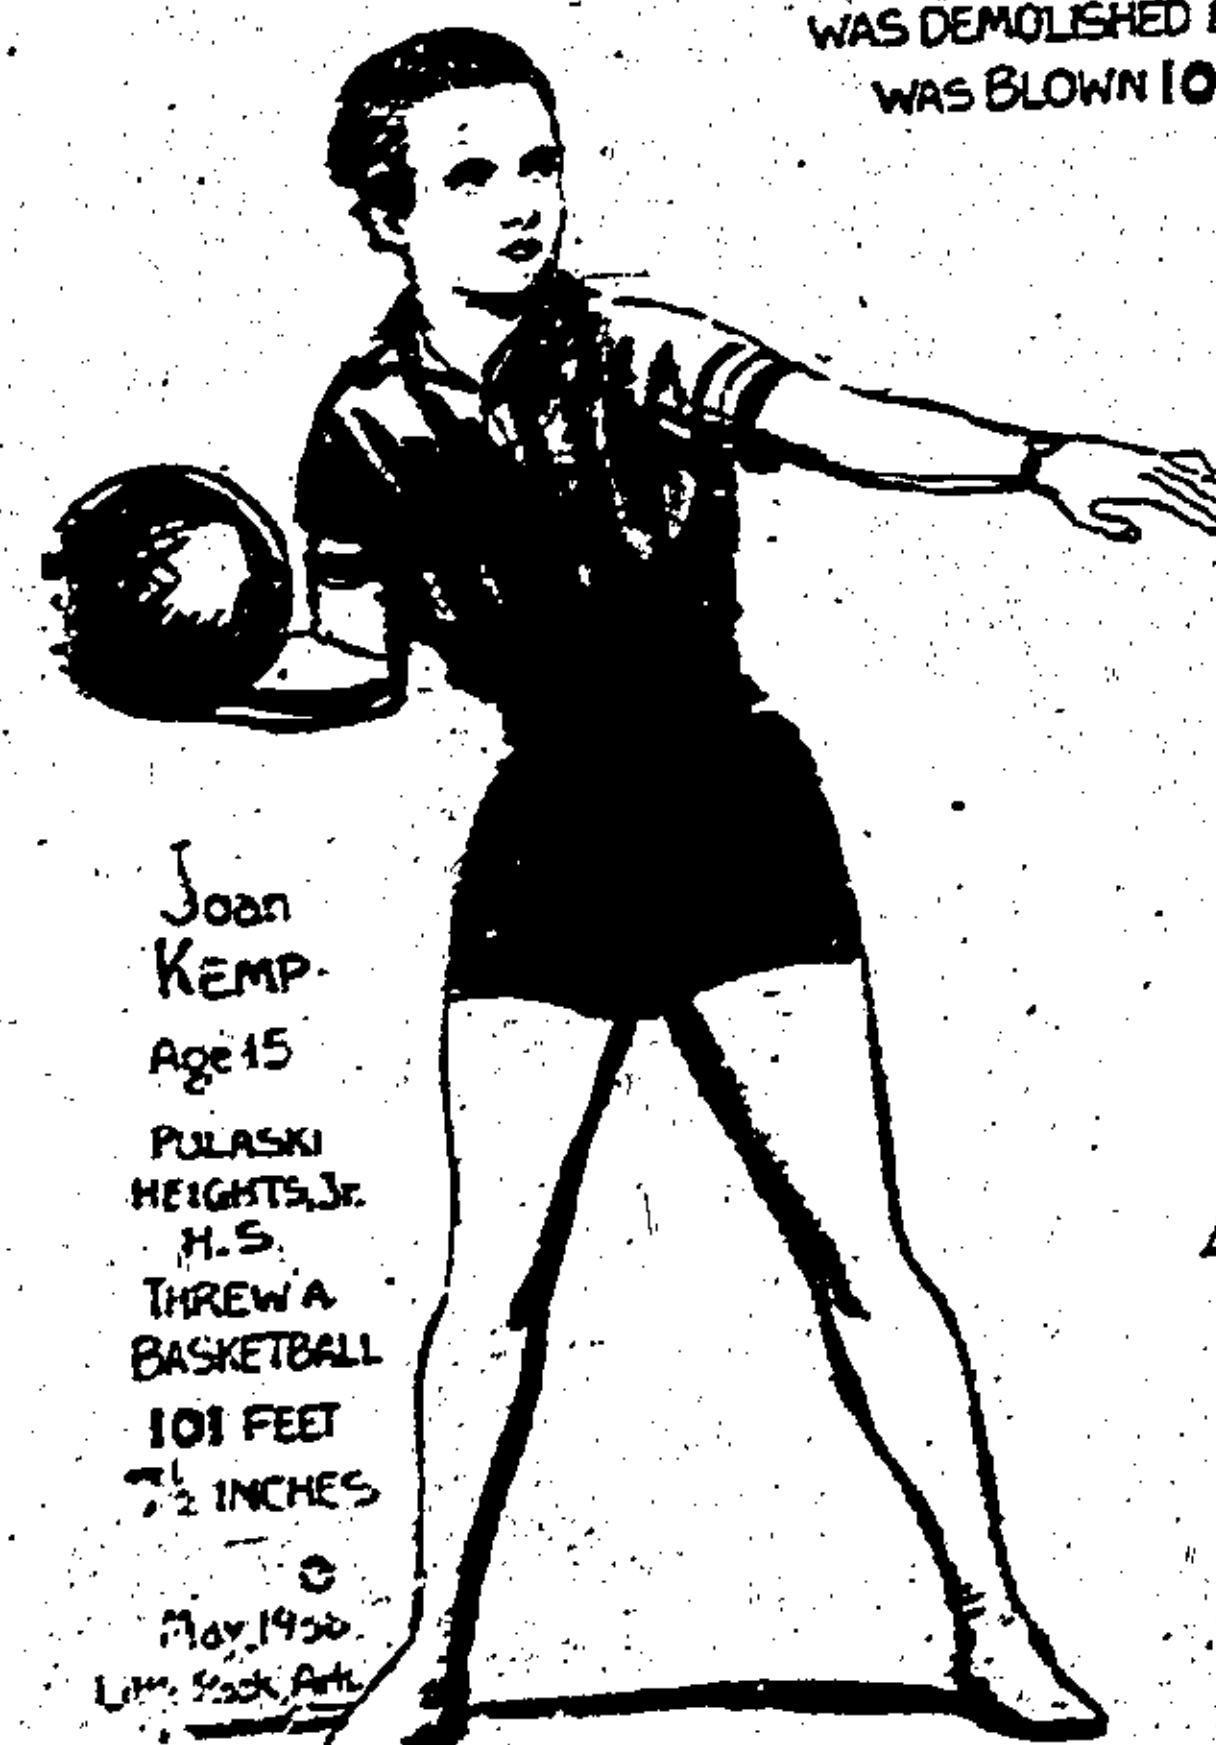

The eggs hatched out safely, and from the little family of silkworms thus produced the silk industry of Europe has grown. It has been said that the gaining of these eggs was "the beginning of a chapter of a new and widespread industry which has changed the fate of nations, altered the vegetation of countries, and created wealth which would baffle a human to count."

KENNEDY ROAD STABBING

Further Hearing Of "Cause Celebre"

CHEUNG YEE-LAU IN WITNESS BOX

The interest manifested in the Kennedy Road stabbing enquiry, when the hearing opened before Mr. W. Schofield at the Central Magistracy on Thursday, was even more intense yesterday when, for two and a half hours, Cheung Yee-lau, a good-looking young woman, stood in the witness-box and described the tragedy that took place in her bedroom at a Kennedy Road establishment on the morning of July 13.

Her evidence was given at the resumed enquiry into the death of Ng Yun-tong, aged 26, of Bonham Road, who was stated to have entered her bedroom and inflicted on himself mutilations which caused his death a few hours later.

Mr. W. Schofield was assisted by the following jury: Messrs. F. A. Mackintosh (foreman), D. D. A. Alonco and J. V. Gomes. The Hon. Mr. M. K. Lo represented Cheung Yee-lau, and Mr. W. A. Mackinlay, of Messrs. Deacons, appeared for the relatives of the dead man. Mr. T. Murphy, Assistant Director of Criminal Investigation, represented the Police.

Scream For Help

Cheung Yee-mui, assistant house amah to Cheung Yee-lau, was recalled yesterday and questioned by Mr. Mackinlay. She said she did not notice whether the deceased carried anything in his pockets when he entered the house. She let him into her mistress's bedroom sometime after 7 a.m. when Cheung Yee-lau was still asleep.

A few minutes later, she heard a noise of something breaking, and then she heard her mistress scream for help.

Asked if Ng appeared to be normal or excited, she said he came in hurriedly and she did not notice his state. She had never seen him in that room before.

Lau Kau, the ricksha puller who had previously testified that he rushed into the room and saw Ng stab himself in his vital organs, was recalled and demonstrated how the knife was used.

There was a considerable stir in Court when the name of Cheung Yee-lau was called. She was ushered in through the Magistrate's entrance in order to avoid the crowd.

Court Cleared

Witness described herself as the kau leung (ninth concubine) of Mr. Mok Kon-sang. She had been in Hong Kong for seven years, and had three children. She first met deceased about May, 1935, at his father's house at Ning Yung Terrace. She had known the family a long time. She began going out with him frequently about the time that Mr. Ng Wah's third son became betrothed, and she was in the habit of referring to Ng Yun-tong as Sze Koh (fourth elder brother). She had a car which she allowed Ng to use and they each possessed keys to this car.

At this stage, the Court was cleared of all except the Press and officials.

Witness said there was no particular relationship between Ng and herself, and she had never heard him mention love until the morning when he died. She agreed that they often went to Repulse Bay together, but there was always a friend of his with them, and Ng never asked her to consider herself as his wife.

Describing the events of the morning of the 13th, witness said: Before seven o'clock my servant roused me and served me with a cup of water as is usual every morning. I went to sleep again until I was awakened by Ng. He came up to me and said "Kau Leung, are you going swimming?" I replied: "I am not, don't you know that we were late home last night? I am very tired from swimming." He said: "All right, if you don't want to go." I then had the impression that he had gone, as I went to sleep.

Lost Consciousness

Shortly afterwards, I heard deceased call me again. He called "Kau Leung," and I turned over in bed to face where he had been sitting. He was standing there. He stabbed me with a knife he was holding, and said, "Kau Leung, I love you so much and still you don't seem to love me." He spoke While Col. Charles A. Lindbergh looked on, Capt. Ernst Udet, famous German war ace, was killed as the fighting plane he was testing went to pieces in the air over a German airport. This picture was taken during a recent stunting tour the German flyer made in America. Udet is shown in the inset.

Lau Po-hei, the Interport back-stroke champion, was an easy winner in the first heat of the 100 Yards back-stroke and, despite a lack of formidable opposition, nearly-bettered Lawrence's Colony mark of 69 secs. Lawrence won the second heat followed closely all the way by Pte. Taylor, of the East Lancs, the latter also qualifying for the Final.

McCarthy Shines

The heats for the 50 Yards free-style championship were very exciting and Cpl. McCarthy, of the East Lancs, who clocked 26 2-5 secs., to win the Army title, beat rapidly and stabbed as he spoke. Then he said, "I had better stab you to death so that no one else can benefit by you." He pulled the knife out and stabbed me again, both blows being in the arm. I was so frightened to scream, but I rolled off the other side of the bed and ran to the servants' quarters. I shouted to Cheung Yee-mui and went back to my bed. I saw Ng cutting himself. I got on to the bed and became unconscious. A thick red diary was then put in evidence and extracts were read by the Magistrate. A translation of some portions was handed to the jury, but the witness was examined on this subject so quietly that it was impossible for anyone else to hear.

His Worship did say, however, that there were some remarkable statements in the diary, which purported to give passages of a love affair between Cheung Yee-lau and Ng Yun-tong, and proceeded to read statements describing meetings between the couple. In one passage Ng spoke of kisses given him by witness.

His Worship: "So far as I can make out from this, you and he were in love with each other, and during July he got jealous of your association with another man or men." Witness denied she had ever seen the diary; she knew nothing about it. She did not know what object Ng would have in keeping the diary. She had only gone out in company with Ng's own people and had never gone out with a man alone.

Only Friends

In reply to Mr. Mackinlay, she said she had never seen a ring or watch, property of the dead man, which were produced by the solicitor. The ring bore witness's name and the date 16th January, 1936. Witness did not know how her name got on the ring, she said, but she had given Ng a cigarette case for which he had expressed a liking. She had never been to school and only knew how to write her own name and read a few simple words.

She had been friendly with Ng and they had only behaved as friends. The hearing at this stage was adjourned to Monday next, at 2.30 p.m.

Local Share Market

Messrs. Harriman's Weekly Report

Messrs. G. A. Harriman & Co.'s weekly share report and market review issued at noon to-day states:—

Most active trading is to be reported during the week elapsed, with dealings evenly divided between Hong Kong and Manila shares. The upward movement has continued in practically all local stocks and shares, Utilities coming in for the lion's share of the buying attention. Hong Kong Electric exchanged up to 56 cum dividend, and close with buyers bidding 54½, ex the $1 interim just paid. China Lights were heavily bought round $12.70 and continued demand has since brought the end price up to $14 cash and $14.20 October. Buyers are keenly enquiring for Ferries at 92, Wharves at $108, Providents (Old) at $1.95, and Telephones at $29.25. Trams have been an erratic market, swayed by rumours, first taken by active bidding up to $14.15 cash, and subsequently falling back to $12.30, but recovering sharply towards the close to $13 cash and $13.20 buyers October. Dairies are on offer at $22 ex and Ropes over $4. Cements have been a good market up to $11.80 cash & $12/12/20 October. Small business passed in Constructions (new) at 47 cts. and there are closing buyers at this rate. Entertainments are wanted at $3.25 and Vibro Piling at about $3. Hotels have reacted slightly from last week's firmness to a closing quotation of $5.90/6.00 with a fair size parcel transacted at $6.10 October. Of Sterling descriptions Banks are now $1.610 and Unions $580, Hong Kong Insurances are wanted at $252 with sellers at $255. The fashion in Manila shares seems to change like that for ladies' hats. First one share is supported and carried to new high level. This is then left to remain unchanged for several days, and another almost dormant stock is taken in hand and buyers rush in for shares. Trading has again been exceptionally heavy and the average of closing quotations is considerably above that of last week. Antamoks after fairly large sales round $5.40 have climbed to $6.20. Aikis are higher at $1.23 ex rights and Big Wedge have been taken at 83 cents. Baguio Gold had a sharp end of the week rise to 63 cents, but closed below best at 63 cents mid-day. Suyocs were an outstanding feature, rising 45c during the week. These also closed below best at $1.38. Benguet Explorations were active up to 50 cents and Demonstrations were bought up to $1.65. Consolidated Mines slipped to 9½ cts, but close at 10½ cts buyers. Masbate, Itogons, San Mauricos and United Paracale are all in keen demand at higher prices. At close the market is very firm all round, both in Hong Kong & Manila stocks and a continuance of the present activity may be looked for, as sentiment is generally very bullish. Furthermore buying is accelerating due to the ever growing confidence in the new Chiang Kai Shek regime in Canton and it is more than apparent that there is a great deal of outside capital finding its way into our market.

After examination by a specialist yesterday, Foord said, "My hand, I understand, will be healed in six weeks, and then I shall be ready for Neusel."

Fight In London

He has had two offers to fight Walter Neusel, the German, who twice beat Petersen. One, as I disclosed yesterday, is from Amsterdam, and the other from Wembley. Foord and his manager are willing to tackle the German, but they are also anxious to have the fight in London.

The Dutch promoter would like to hold the fight on September 29 on a percentage basis. Wembley have offered a guaranteed sum. What this sum is has not been disclosed, but it certainly does not approach the size of Petersen's recent purses, though it would be easily Foord's biggest purse, and I believe the Wembley offer will be taken.

Is Foord Box-Office Draw?

His total purse for his Leicester victory was, I understand, roughly £1,000, of which $750 was guaranteed. The fight was a financial success, the crowd numbering 18,200.

The two big questions regarding Foord are: Is he a "box-office" draw? And will he improve? Promoters are inclined to be sceptical of the first. They remember some poor exhibitions a year or two ago, when Foord, merely a floundering giant, was beaten by second-raters and worse.

I admit I am somewhat sceptical of the second query. Foord has learnt defence and has schooled himself to restrain his temper, which used to lead him into those wild, sprawling attacks. But he still does not look a boxer. He stands cramped on flat feet, and it must have been a matter for amazement for Petersen that, with such a stance, Foord managed to reach him with those tremendous punches.

The South African is only 24, and he has so far managed to get the best possible out of his limited stock of boxing knowledge. He hits a mighty punch, and on Monday he wasted nothing.

But to me he does not appear to have those essentials of class, footwork, lightness of step and poise, without which no boxer gets very far. I hope I am wrong, for Foord is of the right type.

VERITY RECOVERS

Will Leave With Allen's Team To-day

London, To-day.—Hedley Verity, the Yorkshire slow bowler, has been taken ill with influenza, and will probably be unable to join the M.C.C. team starting for Australia to-day.

His doctor has advised him not to travel, but he has made good progress during the past 24 hours and he may either fly to Southampton or else travel overland next week and join the boat at Toulon. Later: Verity has recovered sufficiently to sail with the team to-day.—Reuter.

LUXURY AIR CRUISES
ORGANISED ON BIG SCALE
CLIPPER SHIPS CHARTERED

Seeing World At High Speed

Luxury air touring, which has already been provided by Imperial Airways, is now organised on a big scale by Pan-American Airways. Sixteen luxury cruises are to be carried out, the first having begun on August 16 and the remainder beginning on each following Sunday.

Sister ships of the famous Clipper, which pioneered the Pacific service, are being used. They are Sikorsky S42 flying-boats, fitted with four 800 h.p. engines, and carrying 32 passengers, a crew of four, a purser and a steward.

One schedule is for a 14-days cruise, while another will last 21 days. The cruises will begin at Miami. From there it will take four days to fly to Rio Janeiro, which can only be reached by steamer in 12 days.

All-In Cost

The cost, including all expenses, will be $132 for the 14-days' cruise, and $138 for the longer one.

The 14-day cruise will allow one day at Trinidad on the south-bound flight, and three days at Rio. The 21-days' cruise will give 10 days in Rio.

Passengers will fly only by day, and accommodation will be provided in the airway hotels. Meals during flight will be served from the flying-boat buffet.

Entertainments will be given aboard the air-liners, and when ashore passengers may avail themselves of escorted sight-seeing tours. The cruises will take passengers over 10 countries.

NEW AIR TERMINUS FOR LONDON

Proposed Building At Victoria

A new railway station at Victoria for Imperial Airways, from which passengers may more easily reach air liners at London airports, is to be built if present plans are carried through.

The scheme will involve the demolition of the existing wall along the Buckingham Palace road frontage between Elizabeth and Ebury bridges, and the erection of a building, the elevation of which will take its place.

ESCAPE IN AIR COLLISION

Pilot's First Jump By Parachute

The pilot of an aeroplane which had been in collision with another 1,500ft up last month at Weston Turville, Bucks, realised that he could not land without crashing. He had never, it is stated, used a parachute, but he made a parachute jump and landed safely.

His plane crashed into a farmyard. Hundreds of people watched his parachute descent.

The pilot of the other aeroplane brought his machine down on one wheel at Upper Heyford.

The pilot who made the jump is Mr. J. R. Quartier, a member of the London University Air Squadron, in training at Halton, Bucks.

During flying operations with his squadron there was a collision between his plane and the undercarriage of another machine.

Four chickens were killed by Mr. Quartier's plane when it crashed.

Cinema Notes From The Theatres

"THE CRIME OF DR. FORBES"
—KING'S THEATRE

Unusual for its love story and its dramatic suspense, and packing a last-minute punch, that stamps it one of the screen's current triumphs, this picture has a noteworthy cast, including Gloria Stuart, Robert Kent, Henry Armetta, J. Edward Bromberg, Sara Haden and Alan Dinehart.

Bringing to the screen a topic blazoned in the newspaper headlines, a daring theme that startles and surprises with its implications, the film presents a problem entirely new to the cinema. Does this doctor violate his sacred oath because he loves so much? Is his deed murder or compassion?

Robert Kent, chief assistant to J. Edward Bromberg, noted physician engaged in research seeking a cure for a fatal spinal disease, is seen as "Dr. Forbes" who is faced with the dramatic dilemma.

In the story, Bromberg goes to a prehistoric cavern in Arizona, in connection with his work in research. He leaves the laboratory and his pretty young wife, Gloria Stuart, is charge of Kent.

Kent and Gloria, attracted to each other by youth, are almost constantly together during Bromberg's absence and, unaware of the fact, fall in love.

A cave-in traps Bromberg in Arizona and crushes him. Kent and Gloria rush to the scene and find Bromberg, hopelessly injured, in frightful agony.

Doomed to an indefinite period of pain, his plight can only be alleviated by death. Suddenly, the injured man dies—and unmistakable evidence points to an overdose of drugs.

Kent is suspected because of his association with Bromberg and when it is discovered that he is in love with Gloria Stuart, he is brought to trial.

The climax, a sensational surprise for every spectator, comes in a crescendo of dramatic episodes that mark "The Crime of Dr. Forbes" as one of the most unusual and engrossing of the screen's productions.

Executive Producer Sol M. Wurtzel selected George Marshall to direct the film. The screen play, an original, was written by Frances Hyland and Saul Elkins.

"ROAD GANG"—STAR THEATRE

Donald Woods has to trade punches with "Sailor" Vincent, former welterweight boxing champion of the United States Navy, in this picture.

Both Woods and Vincent have the roles of convicts, and it is during an insurrection in the mines where the prisoners are working that the two come to blows.

Woods himself was ordered by the director to go after the "Sailor" with everything he has and as a result he throws himself heart and soul into his work, but the "Sailor" proves equal to the occasion and shows that he has not forgotten the art of blocking and timing.

"Road Gang" is a powerful drama which bares the terrible conditions in a penal institute run by crooked politicians for graft. The picture also carries a glowing romance in which a beautiful girl battles to free the man she loves, whom she knows to be innocent of the crimes for which he has been convicted.

Kay Linker has the role of the girl, while others in the cast include Carlyle Moore, Jr., Henry O'Neill, Joseph King, Addison Richards and Joseph Crehan.

"BULLDOG JACK"—MAJESTIC THEATRE

There are many points of appeal in "Bulldog Jack"—a bright story, with big thrills, big laughs, spirited action and great team work by the Hulbert brothers. The whole production maintains a high, hilarious level ending in a crescendo of riotous laughs. The tussles between Bulldog Jack and Morelle, the villain, have excellent background in the Underground and British Museum. The biggest thrill of all, however, is staged in the runaway train, where the issue is finally settled amidst tremendous excitement and great fun. The romance is supplied by Fay Wray.

George Arliss and Gladys Cooper are in "The Iron Duke," which will be shown at the King's Theatre to-morrow.

for STAMP COLLECTORS

New York.—Used blocks of four of the commonest recent United States commemorative stamps are proportionately scarcer than cancelled blocks of more desirable collectors' items.

This vagary of philately is brought into sharp relief by a radically revised price list, issued by a prominent New York retailer, which quotes cancelled blocks of four alongside the usual listings of unused singles, unused blocks and used singles. Cancelled blocks of four of recent issues ordinarily are priced at four or five times the quotations for used singles, which means "that the stamps are not necessarily scarcer in blocks than in singles."

Evidence Of Price List

But among the 50 commemoratives regularly issued in the last five years, there are eight exceptions, as follows:

Issued Description	Used Single	Used Block
1932-1½ cent bicentennial	02	16
1932-3c bicentennial	01	15
1932-6c bicentennial	01	15
1932-8c bicentennial	04	40
1932-8c Arbor Day	01	08
1932-8c Olympic Games	01	16
1934-3c Mothers' Day	01	08
1934-3c National Parks	01	10

With the possible exception of the 8c bicentennial, all of these stamps are the commonest commemoratives issued during the five-year period. Yet the prices for used blocks range from 8 to 16 times the price of a used single. In the case of the 8c bicentennial, it may be pointed out that its companion stamp, the 7-cent value, is priced at 4c for a used single, but only 16c for a used block, as compared with 40c for a used block of the 8c. Approximately the same quantities of both were issued.

One explanation of the relative scarcity of the blocks of common stamps is that mail-order houses do not use them on mail from which the cancelled stamps are removed for sale to philatelists. Mail-order houses, or businesses with many branches throughout the country, are the principal sources of the trade for cancelled stamps.

Suppose a large business requires daily bulk reports from its branches, the main office sends the branches supplies of desirable commemoratives, which are put on this mail. The stamps are later removed and sold to wholesalers.

Common Issues Overlooked
Naturally, the Office manager thinks the common stamps will not bring as good prices as the better items, such as the 3c Byrd or the 3c Maryland stamps, which he knows were short issues.

Result: Large supplies of blocks of the better class commemoratives reach the trade, the commoner stamps are overlooked and comparatively few blocks turn up for sale to dealers, the commoner stamps in time become obsolete, and wholesalers find they have only small stocks of cancelled blocks on hand.

PILOT'S DEATH IN BURNING PLANE

Aldershot.

A young officer of the Irish Guards made an heroic attempt to save his brother when the aeroplane in which they were flying crashed through a roof and burst into flames at Farnborough last month.

The young officer, Sec-Lieut. John Gilliat, was himself severely burned as he tried to pull his brother, Pilot Officer S. L. Gilliat, of the 601st County of London Squadron of the Auxiliary Air

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE LESSON SERMON

Subject: "Substance"

FIRST CHURCH OF CHRIST, SCIENTIST, HONG KONG

The subject of the Lesson Sermon in all Christian Science Churches to-morrow, September 13, will be "Substance."

The Golden Text will be "Now faith is the substance of things hoped for, the evidence of things not seen." (Hebrews II: 1.)

Among others, the following citations from the Bible will be read:—"Unto you, O men, I call; and my voice is to the sons of man. I wisdom dwell with prudence, and find out knowledge of witty inventions. Counsel is mine, and sound wisdom; I am understanding; I have strength. My fruit is better than gold, yea, than fine gold; and my revenue than choice silver. I lead in the way of righteousness, in the midst of the paths of judgment: That I may cause those that love me to inherit substance; and I will fill their treasures. The Lord possessed me in the beginning of his way, before his works of old. I was set up from everlasting, from the beginning, or ever the earth was. When he gave to the sea his decree, that the waters should not pass his commandment; when he appointed the foundations of the earth: Then I was by him; as one brought up with him: and I was daily his delight, rejoicing always before him; Now therefore hearken unto me, O ye children; for blessed are they that keep my ways." (Proverbs 8: 4, 12, 14, 19-23, 29, 30, 32.)

Mind And Love
The Lesson Sermon will also include the following passages from the Christian Science Text-book, "Science and Health, with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy:—

"Mind is the same Life, Love, and wisdom yesterday, and to-day, and forever. Spiritual understanding unfolds Mind—Life, Truth, and Love—and demonstrates the divine sense, giving the spiritual proof of the universe in Christian Science. How true it is that whatever is learnt through material sense must be lost because such so-called knowledge is reversed by the spiritual facts being in Science. That which material sense calls intangible, is found to be substance. What material sense seems substance, becomes nothingness, as the sense-dream vanishes and reality appears."

When understanding changes the standpoint of life and intelligence from a material to a spiritual basis, we shall gain the reality of Life, the control of Soul over sense, and we shall perceive Christianity, or Truth, in its divine Principle. This must be the climax before harmonious and immortal man is obtained and his capabilities revealed. It is highly important—in view of the immense work to be accomplished before this recognition of divine Science can come—to turn our thoughts towards divine Principle, that finite belief may be prepared to relinquish its error." (Pages 283, 505, 312 and 322.)

ULSTER WORLD AIR PIVOT

Lord Londonderry's Forecast

A forecast that Northern Ireland would in the future be a pivot for world air services was made recently at Newtownards, Co. Down, by the Marquess of Londonderry, formerly Secretary for Air.

Expressing regret that the Irish base for the projected trans-Atlantic air service would be in the Free State instead of Ulster, he said:

"I should have liked the base here. However, I think the time will come, as air services expand, for the establishment of other bases in Ireland, and we shall have one here."

It has been reported that the trans-Atlantic air base will be at Foynes, Co. Limerick, Irish Free State.

Force, from the blazing machine. Pilot Officer Gilliat was dead when firemen got to his body.

The machine, which was privately owned, crashed on to the roof of a cookhouse at the R.A.F. Aerodrome at Farnborough.

Avoidable "Throw-In" Play

By Ely Culbertson

Throw-in plays account for a large percentage of fulfilled contracts, particularly difficult contracts, but, strangely enough, the defenders themselves often are of indispensable assistance to the declarer in the execution of these plays. In other words, in a great many cases the defenders can avoid being thrown on lead simply by using a little foresight. To-day's hand is an illustration of this point.

West opened the seven of clubs and East cashed two tricks in the suit. From the lead, East could tell that declarer held the 10 9 8 and that, therefore, no harm could be done by a third round continuation. But neither could he see the good that might accrue from this line of play. So he shifted to a diamond, for no particular reason other than a "safe" exit.

Dummy won and led a low spade. When East failed to follow, declarer saw that only one line of play could avail, and that line depended on West's suit distribution. A second diamond was led to dummy and the third round of the suit, although a good trick, was ruffed in the closed hand. Three rounds of hearts, ending in the dummy followed and the fourth heart was ruffed while West supinely had to follow suit.

Now declarer was "home." With only three cards left, the king and a low spade, and the ten of clubs, South led the latter and West, holding Q J 9 of trumps, was "hooked." If he trumped high, he would have to lead away from his remaining honour to the combined tenace in dummy and closed hand. To trump with the nine merely would invite an over-ruff with dummy's ten.

A third round club continuation by East would have permitted West either to over-ruff dummy on the spot, preserving his other trump honour for a sure trick, or to discard from either red suit, which would have scotched effectively the chance for a trump throw-in play.

SHOWMAN ACCUSED

Brighton.
Ronald William Gardner Stanbridge, aged 18, a showman, of Colville-avenue, Shoreham, was accused here last month of the attempted murder of Eva May Barrow, aged 16, a domestic servant,
of Station-road, Preston, Brighton.
He was remanded for eight days.It was alleged that the girl was found stabbed at a fair ground on Brighton racecourse one Saturday night, and she was reported to be in a critical condition.Det-Sergt. Collyer said that when Stanbridge was searched at the police-station, a knife with a bloodstained blade was found in a pocket of his overall.The sergeant added that when the knife was shown to Stanbridge
he replied: "I will say nothing."
Told that no doubt he would be charged with attempted murder, Stanbridge said: "All right, I will tell you." He then made a statement, which he signed.MADRID GOVT. NOT by the foreign diplomats was discussed at a conference at St. Jean tish Ambassador suggested such a step. In view of the assertion of the Swedish Socialist Senator, Dr. Branting, that the Nationalists intend to use poison-gas against the loyalists, this step was considered, but the Italian Ambassador recommended refraining from such a warning, as Dr. Branting's assertion was not admissible as evidence.It was likewise decided to refrain from taking any steps in connection with the execution of hostages, since this might be taken as an unfriendly act and not be in keeping with the neutrality agreement.WHAT'S IN A NAME?

GANG MENACE
IN BELFAST"Killer McKay's And Derry Boys"Glasgow.
A man referred to by the prosecution as "Killer McKay" was sentenced here last month to 30 days' imprisonment. He was one of 54 persons charged at the Estimate Police Court following serious street fighting during the previous week-end.Two women, a girl, and two boys were among the prisoners.
The first case, in which seven men were charged with disorderly conduct, concerned a disturbance at Bridgeton Cross on the previous Saturday night. Lt. Waite, prosecuting, said to the magistrate:"You see before you the pests of Bridgeton Cross. They are known as 'The Derry Boys.' They will attack anyone passing the Cross. I ask for terms of imprisonment to help in stamping out this hoodliganism.""Killers' Advice Referring to James McKay, who admitted a breach of the peace, Lt.
Waite said: "This is the famous
'Killer McKay.' He has everyone afraid of him at Bridgeton Cross.
Some weeks ago he wrote an article in a newspaper, saying that the best way to stamp out gang-fighting was to send gangsters to prison. I suggest that you follow his advice."Most of the charges were stated to have arisen from clashes between rival gangs.Weapons were alleged to have been used in London-road on the Friday night, when a flute band procession was broken up. A constable stated that the police found a bayonet lying in the street, and a woman was said to have thrown a bottle from her window at a constable.Seventeen of the accused were sent to prison for terms ranging from 14 to 60 days. One woman was fined two guineas, and a boy was placed on probation for a year. The other 35 were remanded.The R.M.S. Empress of Canada, which left for Manila last evening, is expected back from there on Wednesday morning next and will sail for Vancouver via ports next Friday at noon.One case of enteric fever was reported to the local Health authorities during the 24 hours ended on Thursday.There is still complete blockage of traffic at a point near the 18½ mile stone along the Castle Peak Road and it is more than likely that passage past this point will be impossible over the week-end, as there is still a large quantity of rock and earth to be removed. The block was caused by the road subsiding during the last torrential rains when roads were blocked at several points round the New Territories. All have now been cleared, however, with the exception of the fall at Castle Peak Road.A Gazette notification states that the offices of the Supreme Court will be open daily from 10 a.m. to 1 p.m. during the long vacations, except on public or general holidays, when the offices will be entirely closed, and on Saturdays, when they will be open from 10 a.m. to noon, subject, however, to the provisions of section 5 of the Supreme Court (Vacations) Ordinance, 1898, so far as it relates to the Criminal Sessions. The long vacation begins on September 20 and terminates on October 17, both days inclusive. The next Criminal Sessions will be held on Monday, September 21, at 10 a.m.

ROUGH ATLANTIC CROSSING

New York.
After completing her fifth westward crossing of the Atlantic at an average speed, 27.96 knots, the Queen Mary was delayed for three hours by fog in New York harbour last month and did not dock until nearly noon.It was then revealed that a tourist passenger, Miss Jane Carey, of Lynn, Massachusetts, had been lost overboard the day before. She had been sharing a cabin with an English passenger,
Miss M. R. Stewart.When Miss Stewart arrived here ship's officers searched the liner three times without result. Miss Carey, who boarded the liner at Southampton, had been studying in England.Rough Crossing Capt. R. V. Peel, who was in command in place of Commodore Sir Edgar Britten, who was on holiday, said that the crossing had been rough and that he had never before encountered so much fog in the Atlantic. Weather conditions made all thought of attempting a record impossible.The 1,306 passengers included the Bishop of London and Fred Perry, both of whom were on their way to Canada. Perry was to return to New York in time to train for the national lawn tennis championship at Forest Hills, now being played.An order prohibiting the export of arms and war materials to
